Here

the heavens
are black

except the Sun.

Imagine

life without the source of life

burning our field
of vision

of the future.

Think
of what the sky

is without a giant falling

god in flames.

Knowledge is staring at the Sun

staring back at us.

All information
in the form

of this planet
is action

in the light of the Sun.

Light
is the field of

intention

& the limit of all things that end.

The Earth
falls

around the Sun
falling

like the slave
of a slave

god.

Life is death

left in the Sun.

The Earth
keeps its distance
from the Sun
of its inhabitants.

The master

protocol
is look away from the god of sight

in fear
of going blind.

The day
is a measure

of what it takes the Sun

to forget us.

Night is
total

abandonment.

The Moon
is everything

the Sun is not cut to scale.

Every night
every thought we think
is backlit
by that panopticon
in the sky & its mirrors
here on Earth.

Measure the stars
against the void

or the shadow

of Earth.

Communicate
across time &

with bad weather.

The city
lights

obscure

the stars &
all messages

they hold until

the Sun

splits open
the day &

annihilates
all other light.

Here
comes the Sun

all over Earth.

Imagine
the seed

this planet was in your hand.

All the code
sprouting

new leaves &
strategies

beneath our feet.

What activates
Earth

dies with the rest of us.

Take hold of the task

it gives you

or give back the gift of sight.

The surface of the Moon is a vision
with which we disagree.

At the end of the day

look the Sun in the face.

The night
is a decision to follow through.

The morning

contains all clarity & direction

for the day.

Remember
nothing of this planet

is strategic.

Eat what comes from the Sun.

This is the first power.

All worlds
begin

with its surrender.

A world is what

blocks out the Sun.

A world
subsists

on the coordinates of life & feeds on being fed on.

Avoid this technology.

Water is
the water of life

& a vehicle
of controlled

delivery.

Slaves drink
from everywhere

but the sky.

Civilization
is just bad strategy.

Humanity
is disrespect for human life

in broad daylight.

Abandon all
systems

of control of your body

away from the Sun.

Acknowledge
the scope of the infinite abyss

surrounding this planet.

Look up.

The human condition

is what denial

of the human function

looks like.

The Earth
bends to the will of the Sun.

What we lack in scale & spirals of cosmic fire

we can make our own.

What
the universe is for is out of scope but what it is

is a technology
of the infinite.

This is the kind of work

you can do for us.
